

Maggie Murphy

Maggie Murphy of Providence Academy

Congratulations to Providence Academy basketball player, Maggie Murphy on her IMAC Conference Athlete of the Month award for December. Maggie has been an crucial part of Providence Academy's success in the month of December helping lead them to a 4-2 record for all of December. In that span Maggie averaged, averaged 15.3 PPG, 8.3 RPG, 2.3 APG, 1 BPG, and 1 SPG. Maggie has been a "Do Everything" type of player for the month of December as she's often been tasked with taking on the opposing team's best interior player as well. Aside from Athletics, Maggie serves as a team captain for the Lions and helped organize the service project for the team this year. With the help of the team, the Lions put together blessing bags for the homeless which they will be distributing throughout the year.

Maggie has been the consummate leader for the Lions this year and has set a remarkable example for her teammates.

Chet Holmgren

Chet Holmgren of Minnehaha Academy

Chet Holmgren, a 7'0" Sophomore Center at Minnehaha Academy, had an incredible December for the 2-Time Defending State Champion Redhawks. In the Month, Chet averaged 18 Points Per game, 10 Rebounds and 5.2 Blocks. He is an absolute game changer on defense, and has the ability to shoot from deep - he was hitting at a 35% clip over his first 9 games. Chet is receiving major Division I interest to play at the next level.
