

November Students of the Month – Gratitude

Kindergarten - Mrs. Heuer. Lars Hendrickson is the Student of the Month in Mrs. Heuer's kindergarten class for the theme of Gratitude. Lars uses kind words and manners when talking to other people. He is always saying 'please' and 'thank you'. Lars helps his friends in our classroom and is always trying to lift people up with his kindness. You can tell that he also appreciates it when others help him by showing how happy it makes him when someone offers him help. He is courteous in that he always tries to be kind and gracious to everyone he meets. Way to go, Lars! Congratulations!

Kindergarten - Ms. Miller. Benson Lindstrom is the Student of the Month in Miss Miller's kindergarten class for the theme of Gratitude. Benson uses kind words and manners when talking to other people. He is always saying 'please' and 'thank you'. He helps his friends in our classroom and is always trying to lift people up with his kindness. He also appreciates it when others help him by showing how happy it makes him! He is gracious in that he is always kind and courteous to everyone he meets. Due to this, he has built some strong relationships with his peers in our classroom. Way to go, Benson! Congratulations!!

Grade One - Miss Byrd. For November Student of the Month, Gratitude, I chose Esmund Storms. He shows gratitude by always saying thank you or please. He says when he loves or appreciates something or someone. He is always showing kindness or making up for things and is a great leader in that way.

Grade One - Mrs. Pavlenko. I would like to nominate Mila Gagner for my November Student of the Month. Mila is kind and helpful to her classmates and teachers and has continued to grow in her knowledge and work ethic, particularly in Reading. She is terrific about using good manners in the classroom and elsewhere, offering to help in any way she can-asking if she can stack extra chairs, sweep the classroom, or assist a classmate with their work. She is always saying please and thank you to others, and is confident in her strengths and abilities. Mila has also been demonstrating friendship by always greeting others and working well with everyone. Mila is a wonderful example of what it means to be grateful, and for that reason, she has undoubtedly earned our November Student of the Month! Congratulations, Mila!

Grade Two - Mrs. Carlson. November's theme of gratitude has been shown by Matthew Bakeberg many times in the classroom. Matthew continually expresses that he is grateful for what he has received and things that he has. Matthew is always thankful to spend time with his friends at school and happy to help when he is needed. Matthew's attitude in the classroom reflects that he is happy and appreciative to be in school each day. I am excited to call Matthew the Student of the Month for November!

Grade Two - Mrs. Eastling. I nominate Brooks Cloutier for November student of the month for gratitude. He always has a kind word to say and will say please or thank you, even for the little things. He shows he is grateful for the things he has by taking care of them. Great job, Brooks!

Grade Three - Mrs. LaMott. Congratulations to Finnley Singer-Towns for being selected student of the month from Mrs. LaMott's classroom! Finnley is kind and helpful to his classmates and teachers. He is terrific about using his manners and continually expresses gratitude for things he has. Finnley is always thankful to spend time with friends at school and happy to help when needed. His attitude in the classroom shows that he is happy to be here every day! Congratulations Finnley and keep up the good work! :)

Grade Three - Mrs. Wadman. November's theme of gratitude has been shown by Lindzi Headman in many different ways. Lindzi always comes to school with a smile on her face. She shows gratitude by saying good morning to others, and she is so thankful for each day we are together as a class. I know that Lindzi will have such an amazing year in 3rd grade! I am proud to name Lindzi student of the month for November!

Grade Four - Mrs. Gallagher. The November student of the month for Mrs. Gallagher's class is Scarlette Stenberg. This month's theme is gratitude. When it was time for our class to discuss gratitude, Scarlette was ready to explain what gratitude is AND she had lots of examples of what she is grateful for. Scarlette enjoys time with her friends and family. Scarlette has a pleasant personality and helps bring joy to those around through the things she says and does. As a student of the month, Scarlette also exhibits other positive character traits. She is kind and respectful when playing with friends on the playground and she loves to participate in classroom activities. When classmates are speaking, she listens respectfully. We are so glad to have Scarlette in our class. She sees good in all things! Congratulations Scarlette!

Grade Four - Mr. Goudy. Jenna Collins is the student of the month for November. She has had such an outstanding attitude everyday and has been a treat to be around. She works hard in all of her classes and is respectful to her classmates and teachers. She keeps an amazing perspective as she is very active in sharing her ideas and thoughts. I have been impressed by her ability to stay focused on tasks and lead small groups. I am thankful for her consistency and leadership in and out of the classroom. Well deserved Jenna!
