

May Students of the Month – Creativity

Kindergarten - Mrs. Heuer. Caleb Johnson is the May student of the month in Mrs. Heuer's kindergarten class for the theme of creativity. Caleb is great at building and creating elaborate things out of the building items we have in our classroom, especially the Magnetics! We are always waiting to see what he can create during our free time! He also takes his time when creating arts and crafts in our classroom and loves to work on big puzzles that we have out during free time. Caleb participates in Music and PE and has been a big help in preparing for our kindergarten program – in learning his lines, learning the songs and in learning all the actions to the songs. Congratulations on being picked for our Student of the Month, Caleb!

Kindergarten - Miss Miller. Orion Thom is the student of the month in Miss Miller's class for the theme of creativity! Orion uses his imagination in all he does! He enjoys drawing and building. During our playtime, he is almost always building different cars or vehicles with the magnetic tiles. While building, he thinks of different ways to improve his creation to make it even cooler. Orion is truly a creative kid! Congratulations Orion on being picked for Student of the Month!

Grade One - Miss Byrd. For the May Student of the Month, I chose Camden Jobe. He shows creativity in the artwork he makes, the activities we do, in his answers during lessons and his outside of the box thinking. Camden is overall a kind, creative and thoughtful person.

Grade One - Mrs. Pavlenko. I would like to nominate Happy Yang for my May Student of the Month. Happy is great at sharing her exuberance and creativity with others. She comes to school everyday with a smile on her face, prepared and ready to learn. Happy is very helpful-if she is given a job to do, she consistently gives 100% of her best effort, particularly with anything featuring writing and art! In fact, the creativity and detail in her Daily 5 writing journal and Weekend News are something I look forward to seeing regularly! Finally, Happy uses kind and encouraging words with her classmates and teachers, and enjoys sharing and celebrating their accomplishments, big and small, as well as her own. I have loved having Happy in my class and look forward to watching her grow and succeed next year in 2nd Grade. Best Wishes!

Grade Two - Mrs. Carlson. May's theme of creativity has been shown by Cass Cardinal frequently in the classroom. Cass creates artwork that is different from everyone else's. He takes his time to create something unique and new. Cass thinks independently and outside the box. His artwork stands out! I am proud to call Cass the student of the month for May.

Grade Two - Mrs. Eastling. I nominate Ayari Acosta for student of the month for creativity. She shows creativity in all the work she does. Her art work is phenomenal and her writing truly shows creativity because it has so much detail. She goes the extra mile to add in interesting ideas. It is so fun to read! She loves to push her brain when working on assignments when she is given less guidance, because then she is able to show what she knows in a variety of ways. Way to go Ayari!

Grade Three - Mrs. LaMott. Congratulations to Carlie Kruck for being selected student of the month from Mrs. LaMott's classroom! Carlie is creative in so many ways. She is always drawing and creating things. Many of her ideas come from the many books she has read. She enjoys dreaming up stories to go along with her creations too. Carlie also uses her creativity to help solve problems - her own and within the classroom. She will offer solutions and ways to create a better space for everyone. Congratulations Carlie and keep up the good work! :)

Grade Three - Mrs. Wadman. May's theme of creativity has been shown by Brooklyn Spars in many different ways. She shows creativity by always solving problems in unique ways! This year, if we have had a challenge to face as a class, she is the first one to suggest an idea that is original! Brooklyn also has amazing artistic skills. She is having such an amazing year here in 3rd grade! I am proud to name Brooklyn, student of the month for May!

Grade Four - Mrs. Gallagher. The May student of the month for Mrs. Gallagher's class is Ella Ricci. This month's theme is creativity. Ella is creative in quiet ways that brighten our classroom in meaningful and beautiful ways, even if she does not always speak up. She is a deep thinker who shares her ideas through drawings, stories, and quiet determination. Additionally, Ella is very conscientious of the feelings of others. She shows genuine kindness, concern and empathy for others. Ella shows respect during work time by working quietly and not distracting others. She is a great listener and has thoughtful, and creative responses during classroom discussions. We are so glad to have Ella in our class. Congratulations Ella!

Grade Four - Mr. Goudy. Henry Hystad is the student of the month for May. When I think of creativity I think of unique ways to think through problems and find a way for a solution. Past times in the year, this would have stifled Henry as he at times can get hard headed, but lately he has given himself a better approach to problem solving when he lets himself get out of the way. I am hoping going forward, that he continues the approach to be a better listener and look to understand the full situation. This will give him a better chance to problem solve and move on from things quicker.

On the flip side, his state float was uber creative! He had a poster style board with a 3D type look and it totally wowed the spectators! He also crushed his one minute speech as he talked with expression and understanding. Definitely a project he took seriously and grew a lot from.

Henry has had his ups and down this year, but I am super proud of how he has chosen to finish the year. He has been participating more in class and finding himself in less stressful situations outside at recess, at lunch, and other less structured areas.
