

February Students of the Month - Honesty

Gr K - Mrs. Gunderson. Shane Salonek is our February Student of the Month. Shane is an excellent example of Honesty in our classroom. Like all humans Shane sometimes makes mistakes. Unlike all humans, Shane is honest about things that happen. He is quick to fix mistakes. Further than that, Shane has grown immensely in his willingness to make things right and to take responsibility for his actions. This is a tremendous skill for a Kindergartener and one Shane should be so proud of. In addition to his honesty, Shane is a hard worker. He is compassionate. He also has big ideas and a strong desire to rise up to challenges. We are so lucky to have Shane as a member of our classroom community. He shows great honesty and citizenship everyday and we can't wait to see what all he accomplishes this year and beyond!

Gr K - Ms. Ready. The Character Strong topic for February was Honesty. We learned that honesty is being truthful in what you say and do. I am pleased to nominate Waylon Strehlow as our student of the month. Waylon demonstrates honesty in his work and through his actions, helps to solve problems in our classroom, and tells the truth consistently. He is a very hard worker and brings a positive attitude to school each day. Waylon is consistent, kind, and sincere. He brightens our school with his smile and has a kind spirit that shines through to those around him. We appreciate Waylon and enjoy his company in our class! Congratulations

Gr 1 - Mrs. Myhre. This month, I'd like to nominate Jackson Lehmborg for student of the month. Jackson shows honesty by consistently telling the truth and taking responsibility when he makes a mistake. He speaks up when something is wrong and works to make things right. His classmates know they can trust him because he is kind to all, fair, and dependable. His honesty encourages others to be truthful as well.

Gr 1 - Mr. Paulson. This month we are excited to celebrate Jameson Knick as our February Student of the Month for honesty! Jameson shows what honesty looks like in our classroom each day. He tells the truth, even when it is not always easy, and takes responsibility for his choices. Jameson has been working hard and has made a lot of great growth this year. He brings fun energy to our classroom, loves to participate, and stays engaged in learning. He is always ready to share his ideas and be involved in our class. We are very proud of Jameson for showing us what honesty looks like in first grade. Thank you for being a great example for our class, Jameson!

Gr 2 - Mrs. Bresnahan's class has highlighted the character trait of honesty, and Lucas Borrell has truly modeled what it means to be truthful and trustworthy. We would like to recognize Lucas Borrell for always choosing to be honest—even when it's not the easiest choice—and for showing integrity in both their words and actions. Whether he is owning up to mistakes, giving sincere feedback, or simply being someone others can count on, his honesty helps create a safe and respectful classroom. We're proud to honor Lucas Borrell as our Student of the Month for honesty!

Gr 2 - Mrs. Rice. Isaac Borrell is a wonderful example of how to live truthfully in your words, actions and thoughts. He chooses to be honest with his teachers and classmates, even in difficult situations. We trust Isaac because of his ability to be humble - he is always willing to share his own struggles and celebrations. Isaac takes responsibility for himself and his choices. He is a kind, caring friend to all at Humphrey Elementary! Way to go Isaac!

Gr 2 - Mrs. Shea. Jace Jacobson is honest in word and action. Even when it is difficult, he always tells the truth and inspires others to do the same. I am thankful to have such a straightforward student. He is never afraid to admit when he is wrong and will always show the truth. Jace understands that being honest helps build trust with his classmates and teachers. When he makes a mistake, he takes responsibility and works hard to fix it. His honesty makes our classroom a safe and caring place to learn.

Gr 3 - Ms. Johnson. Being an honest and sincere friend makes others feel cared about and special. When a friend uses their kindness and truthfulness it shows a strong sense of character. Theo Carlson sets a great example of what it means to cooperate with others, to be a kind friend, and to be the best 3rd grader he can be. Theo strives to know the difference between right and wrong and when it's time to step in and say something in order to help another student. He chooses to tell the truth and be kind every single day. If he does make a mistake he is honest and fixes it right away. Theo is a very grateful, honest, and cooperative 3rd grader who is a caring friend to many. Keep up the tremendous work Theo!

Gr 3- Mrs. Lindstrom. Kimber Wilen is our Student of the Month for the character trait honesty! Kimber shows honesty in our classroom by always doing what's "right," even if she's the only one doing it. Kimber looks for opportunities to be a role model for positive behavior and builds trusting relationships throughout the school. She is trustworthy and reliable in all she does, and enjoys being a helpful and dependable part of our classroom community. Way to go, Kimber!

Gr 4 - Mrs. Gallus. Jackson Kittock has been honest all year at school. He tells the truth, admits his mistakes and tries to fix them. His teachers and classmates know they can trust him. Jackson shows good character by always trying to do the right thing. Jackson's strong character and commitment to doing the right thing make him a positive role model in the classroom. Way to go, Jackson!

Gr 4 - Ms. Krueger. I would like to recognize Logan Lukach for Student of the Month because of his strong honesty and growing responsibility. Logan will tell the truth, even when it is difficult. If he makes a mistake or poor choice, he is willing to admit it and take ownership. That level of honesty takes courage and shows strong character. Being honest, reflective, and willing to grow are important traits of a successful learner. I am proud of the effort Logan is putting into becoming the best version of himself, and I look forward to seeing his continued growth.
