Blandin Foundation Education Grant deadline is March 1 Program helps put higher education within reach for area students

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn. (December 15, 2016) –Blandin Foundation’s applications for need-based education grants are now available and are being accepted until March 1. Up to $1 million will be granted to Itasca County area students pursuing higher education during the 2017-2018 school year.

The March 1, 2017 deadline is earlier than past years.

The education grant program is the longest-running program of the Blandin Foundation, with the first awards given in 1956 by founder Charles K. Blandin. Since then, more than 15,000 area youth have received scholarships totaling more than $31 million.

“Our education grant program has a strong and important history with Itasca area communities,” said Kathy Annette, president of the Blandin Foundation. “For 60 years we have worked with area students to help achieve their dreams of further education. Achievement of our young people was a great passion of Mr. Blandin’s, as it is for the Foundation still today.”

Grants are available to local students who will or have graduated from one of the following high schools: Grand Rapids, Bigfork, Deer River, Hill City, Greenway, Nashwauk-Keewatin, Remer, Blackduck, Northome, Bug-o-Nay-ge-Shig, Northern Lights Community School, and home-schooled students who could have attended school in one of the qualifying schools. To be eligible, students must be under the age of 25 as of September 1, 2017, be registered as a full-time student (12 credits per semester) at any accredited trade school or two-year or four-year college or university, and make satisfactory academic progress toward their degree program (at least a 2.0 GPA or higher).

Recipients are selected on a need-based system, and amounts are based on the federal government’s Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) formulas. Other factors considered include total cost of attendance (tuition, fees, room and board, books and supplies, transportation and miscellaneous expenses), family income, and number of siblings also attending college. Students can receive $1,000 to $4,500, and must reapply each year. The Foundation’s education grants are available for a variety of forms of post-secondary (after high school) education, including college and university, community and technical colleges, and certificate programs.

Applications are available three ways. Students can pick them up at local high school counseling offices. They can be downloaded it from the Foundation’s web site (<http://blandinfoundation.org/educationgrants>). Or they can be requested from the Foundation directly by calling 218-326-0523 or by emailing educationgrants@BlandinFoundation.org. Located in Grand Rapids, Minn., Blandin Foundation is one of only a handful of foundations in the U.S. focused exclusively on rural communities and the largest rural-based private foundation in Minnesota. The Foundation seeks and supports vibrant rural Minnesota communities.

Practical Suggestions for Building Assets in Your Child

FAST FACTS

ASSET #6:
Parent
Involvement in Schooling

Youth are more likely to grow up healthy when their parents are involved in their education and school.

29%
of youth surveyed by Search Institute have this asset in their lives.*

What Are Assets?

Assets are 40 key building blocks to help kids succeed. "Parent involvement in schooling" is one of six support assets

* Based on Search Institute surveys of about 100,000 6th- to 12th-grade youth throughout the United States.

Becoming a School Partner

It's a downward trend. As children start kindergarten, parents are quite involved with their education. We attend parent-teacher conferences, cheer on our children at school concerts and events, and hang up schoolwork in the family kitchen gallery: the refrigerator.

As children become older, parents grow farther away from school. Kids seem to be doing well without our involvement. They're supposed to be independent. Right?

Yes, but not by a parental retreat. Kids need their parents to stay actively involved in their education throughout middle and high school.

Parents can easily stay involved in small ways that will make a big difference. For example:

- Maintain ongoing communication with your child's teacher(s). Call to check in every other month. Call before trouble appears.
- Join a parent-teacher organization. If you can't volunteer a lot of time, say so.
- Volunteer to help out in small ways. Check with the teacher or the school's volunteer coordinator.

The CHALLENGE

Most youth don't have parents who are active in their schooling. Only 29% of young people experience this asset. And involvement drops dramatically across the middle and high school years, from 44% of 6th graders having this asset to only 17% of 12th graders.

- Attend all conferences. If you can't make it on the designated date, arrange to meet at another time.
- Talk with your child about her or his homework—focus more on the issues and topics than specific assignments.

time together

Three ways to get more involved with your child's education:

1. Encourage your child's teacher to meet with both you and your child so that everyone can have a say in expectations and goals.
  - Go to a museum to look at exhibits that are related to your child's class.
2. Together create a thank-you note or small gift for your child to give to the teacher.

Benefits of Staying Involved

When parents participate in their children's education—even in small ways—children can reap great benefits. Search Institute researchers found that when parents stay involved, young people are:

- Motivated to do well in school.
- More committed to pursuing education after high school.
- Less likely to use alcohol, become violent, or engage in anti-social behaviors.
- More likely to be involved in positive school activities.

Quick Tip:
Ask your child daily about what happened in school.

More Stuff You Can Use

The U.S. Department of Education has a number of free publications on family involvement in learning available by calling 1-800-USA-LEARN.

talk together

Questions to discuss with your child:

- In what ways would you like me (us) to be involved with your school?
- What do you like about other parents who help out at school?
- What would make school more enjoyable? Why?

FINAL WORD

"Forge a partnership with your child's other educators from the start."
