Farewell

Mrs. Covey

Mrs. Covey was hired as an aide in the music department eight years ago, but the job quickly became so much more. Her passion for music education is infectious. Her future plans include spending more time with her family. She said, "It has been an honor to be part of the staff at Winner, and to have the opportunity to teach such fine young people."

Mr. Hosford taught physical education.
His future plans are staying in Winner for now. He is leaving his options open about what he will do next.

Mr. Hosford

Mr. Weber

Mr. Weber taught freshmen and sophomore English. His future plans include teaching junior high English and coaching boys basketball in Colome. He said,"I'm going to miss the students and staff here, and I enjoyed being part of this school."

Even though Mr. Massa officially retired last year, he came back to teach a few ag classes. His future plans are to continue to farm and ranch. He said, "I'm not returning next year, but it's not August yet so we'll see."

Mr. Massa

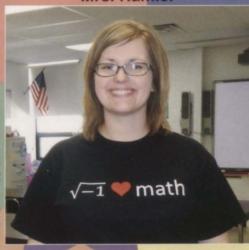

Miss Yeo

Miss Yeo directed the band. Her future plans are to go wherever the wind takes her. She hopes to keep teaching instrumental music.

Mrs. Hamiel taught the upper math classes. Her future plans are staying at home with her children. She said, "Remember what your math teacher has taught you and always sing the quadratic formula."

fair in Winner.

The Face of a Warrior

Student Council

The 2013-2014 school year was very productive. To start off we came up with our "Jungle" Homecomin theme. We planned everything before school even started. As soon as football started, we hit the ground running. Thanks to all the WMS reps, who worked at all the concession stands, we were very successful. For Homecoming we decorated, dressed up and competed to show our school spirit. Homecoming is a hump project for us and an important part of our community. For Halloween, we had a costume contest; man students showed up in their best costumes to be judged in categories such as "Scariest" and "Funniest." The came the Veteran's Day program; we asked the choir and the band to perform. Over 50 area veterans come to be honored. During the Christmas season, we held our annual "Ugly Sweater" contest. Numerous student sported sweaters with lights, bows, and teddy bears on them. In January we sponsored a winter formal. The girls looked gorgeous, and the guys looked dashing. In the spring we made the journey to Pierre for States Student Council which all 19 attendees enjoyed. WHS Student Council donated $500.00 to the Childrent Miracle Network; we did fundraisers such as the Valentine flower raffle, admission to the dances and a sucket sale to raise the money. Molly Connot was elected as regional parliamentarian. Sam Naasz was elected regional representative and will be representing our Capitol District in 2014-2015. We finished the year will a pizza party and awards.

Oral Interp

Whether it was looking in the mirror, cramming last minute while getting dressed in a suit, or spending all night perfecting our pieces, Oral Interp 2013-2014 was an unforgettable year. We started off our year hosting the Winner Invitational with five other teams attending. We set up, performed and cleaned up which made for long day. After that, several of us went to the Patriot Spectacular at Sioux Falls Lincoln. Most who went were "novices" and gained a lot the experience. The next weekend we went to the Pierre Invitational where Dunca English received second place in varsity oratory; we were all proud of his accomplishment. Yankton Invitational was new for us this year. It was an experience the six of us will not forget. By the time locals rolled around we all had practiced a ton and were ready for some tough competition. We filled all the categories. From there we went on to regions. We had members advance to the state festival in four categories. Hannah Cover advanced in drama with "Ice Cream for Dinner." Natalie Gronlund extended her season in serious prose with "And the Award Goes To..." Duncan English advanced with "A Matter of Honor" in oratory. In duet, Natalie Gronlund and Ashley Meiners moved on to state with "The Vonhefflehorn Therapy." State medalists were Duncan English, Natalie Gronlund, and Ashley Meiners. Our year ended with a very belated Christmas party. We will miss our six seniors dearly! Thank you to our coach, Mrs. Judy Duffy, for pushing us to be our best.

FCCLA

We had a lot of exciting opportunities this year. To start off the year, we worked numerous concession stand so that we could raise money to go to State FCCLA in the spring. In October, four of our members went to Fa Leadership in Huron, Molly Connot, Matt Jensen, and Josey Blare represented the Winner Chapter on Per Education teams, while Natalie Gronlund participated as a State Officer for Rookie Training. In December We hosted the District meeting in Winner, and two of our own members ran for District Chairperson. After a da of speeches and interviews. Molly Connot was elected District Chairperson and Shannon Duffy was elected Co-Chairperson. Molly will be representing District VI on the State Executive Council during the 2014-2015 school year. February then brought FCCLA week. We held the King of Hearts contest and other events throughout the week. We also ran a food drive where we collected over 500 items for our local food pantn Throughout the year, we had a pop tab collection for the Ronald McDonald House and collected over 250 pounds of pop tabs. In April, most of the chapter went to Sioux Falls for the state meeting. Everyone did well in their STAR Events and we came back with many Top Superiors. Ashley Meiners and Shannon Duffy qualified in their STAR Events to go to Nationals in July. Molly Connot will also be attending Nationals as she was elected the SD FCCLA Vice President of Membership during the state meeting. After state, we came back and celebrated the end of the year with our local banquet and everyone received their awards from local district, and state levels.

FFA

FFA began somewhat differently this year; we welcomed Dawn Covey as our advisor. She graciously accepte the position so that we could keep the organization active. We tried a new fundraiser this year; we were servent for a local caterer. Our annual fruit sale was a record breaker; we increased sales by 30%. In October, we were able to send two members to the national FFA convention in Louisville, Kentucky. Brittney Hansen and Sydnie Peters went and both came to back to say it was a great experience and would love to go again. In December, we started working on our career development events (CDE). There were several different teams including agronomy and floriculture. We went to two different CDE days. One was in Miller and the other was in DeSmet. At the DeSmet CDE, we had the privilege of meeting our advisor for next year, Mr. Wyatt DeJong With the money we raised from fruit sales we were able to buy everyone new jackets and ties. In April, we went to the state convention which was in Brookings on the SDSU campus. All of the CDE teams did well and came back with excellent scores. We also had a FFA quiz bowl team which included Brennan Tunnissen Brittney Hansen, Evan Hagenlock, and Nick Nespor. They worked very hard and made it to the finals. Late in the spring we held our banquet, where we inducted new officers and handed out awards to everyone. We will miss our four seniors and Mrs. Covey.

Stage Fright

We had a very exciting year. We had meetings once a month. In December, we had tryouts for the One Ac plays. Mrs. York directed the playhouse sponsored play, and Mr. Wonnenberg directed the contest play. Mrs. York chose a comedy called "Anybody for Tea?" It was about old ladies who were trying to lure a homicide detective into their house, so they staged a murder. The cast had the opportunity to perform in front of the Chamber of Commerce banquet. The contest play was called "Mr. Flannery's Ocean." It was about an old man who thought he owned the ocean; he then sees life from a different angle when an old woman who is about to pass away comes to the resort. Almost everyone had to work on their English accents (except for the one "American"). Congratulations Matt Jensen and Natalie Gronlund on receiving outstanding actor awards at the region contest. Soon after, we had tryouts for the all school play. Divine Stella Devine was about a younger actress, who wanted to be in the spotlight, so she tried to take the place of a well-known actress. was a great success. Our theme for the Stage Fright banquet was Disney. We played Disney-themed jeopard that made everyone want to go back in time. The directors gave out the senior awards, and we all enjoyed the reminiscing. The trophies were also given out: Matt Jensen was chosen as the Outstanding Stage Figh Member and Best Actor; Duncan English was named with Best Supporting Actor; Natalie Gronlund received the Best Actress award; Molly Connot won Best Supporting Actress; and Bailey Baker was named Techie the Year. Thanks for an awesome year!

Yearbook

There was never a dull moment for the 2013-14 Yearbook staff. We hit the ground running by choosing editor and preparing for ad sales. The nine staffers sent letters to area businesses and then visited over 100 loc merchants in person to sell ads and page sponsorships. It is a long, but fun day, and so many people and proud to advertise and support WHS. We met weekly starting last fall and did our best to keep up on the happenings of all clubs, sports, and organizations. Group picture day was in December, but staffers were snapping photos all year long. Things got busy at the end of the school year and this was when the real wor began as we prepared to send our Warrior to the publishers. The staff included three new editors - Duncar Molly, and Sydnie - and we learned "on the fly" how to do page layouts and develop patience (or not) as we waited for our computers to upload and update the program. Editors met over lunches to make decisions of the cover and content, and as the school year went on, we all had standing dates together every Tuesda and Thursday after school to work. The staff was ready to work (most days!) and we spent a lot of quality time together. We certainly learned what makes us all tick. There was always somebody to help when we ran into a problem. We all appreciated that our advisor, Mrs. Durrin, was always there to listen to our dum stories and gave her time to us. We will greatly miss our two graduating senior editors, Josey Blare and Mal Jensen, and we thank them for their contributions over the last few years. It was an awesome year and I can wait for our next!

Warriorettes

The performance season began with the same dance team that participated in competitions. Kennede Mathis, Cassidy Hanson and Hannah Covey were chosen as leaders and attended a summer camp in Storm Lake, IA, to select routines. They learned the first 30 seconds of each song so these leaders had to finish the choreography for the dances. The girls taught the Kick, Pom, and Hip Hop dances during the July camp. The Warriorettes performed at Homecoming Coronation, home football games, basketball games, and the wrestling tournament. They finished their season with a performance at the Boy's State A's Basketball Tournament in Sioux Falls. For this event, they learned a new dance that was a mash-up of all the dances the seniors had done as freshmen. At the end of the year, they had a group party where they gave out team awards and had some great food. The leaders and Mrs. DeMers stated they were proud of the girls' accomplishments during this year and look forward to the next season.

National Honor Society

As we began the year, NHS members were tasked with giving the school and community 12 hours of service. There was a variety of ways to earn these hours: including cleaning up after football, volleyball and basketbargames; tutoring underclassmen; helping at the elementary school book fair; hosting games at family fun night playing bingo at Winner Long Term Care; hosting our first blood drive; donating blood; and creating a recycling program. We sponsored a two day blood drive which involved setting up appointments for doners; making reminder calls and bringing refreshments for the donors. Seventeen WHS students donated blood contributing to a very successful drive. For the betterment of our school and planet we began a recycling program. We placed receptacles in classrooms for paper and in the hallway for plastic bottles. At the Academic Banque we inducted 20 new members. Later in May, a banquet honoring the graduating members was held at Sargents. The graduating members wore gold honor cords. Those who had donated blood three or more times, or who had worked at the drive wore a Blood Hero Cord to signify their contribution. Congratulations to the neofficers and have a great year next year!

Band

As you can tell, this year our band was small, but mighty. We had seventeen members, including one eight grader. We had many different chances to play this year. At the beginning of the year, we played at a few the home football games. In November, we played at the Veteran's Day program. We played the "Star Spangle Banner" and "March of the Armed Forces." We had seven people participate in the Region Festival in Gregon In December, we made the long journey to Pierre to play at the capital. It was great to be able to hear hows few people can make so much awesome noise. For the Christmas season, we prepared the songs "Three Jazzy Kings," "A Charlie Brown Christmas," "African Bell Carol," and other Christmas carols. Throughout the year, we played at a few basketball games; we enjoyed being able to play, "What Does the Fox Say?" For large group contest, we played three songs different songs. We ended up earning excellent ratings from a few solos. At solo-ensemble contest, we had a group that played an excellent percussion performance and a few solos. In April, we really started working on the music for the Pops concert. We played "Lord of the Dance," a selection of music from Frozen, and a "Michael Jackson Hit Mix" selection. Ms. Yeo will being moving on to other places and we will miss her. We also had to say goodbye to nine seniors who will be greatly missed.

Choir

What do you think of when you hear "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas," "Sonctus," and Grease? One awesome choir year, of course! We had a lot of different experiences this year. We started off the year with All State tryouts. Quartet one was Dacey Kocer, Nate Farley, Molly Connot, and Duncan English. Quartet two was Hannah Covey, Nick Hossle, Calah Covey, and Shayden Drey. They represented our school excellently Soon after, we started learning our Christmas music. We sang a variety of songs, including one of the All States songs, at both our local concert and the capital in Pierre. After Christmas break, we came back and started preparing for solo-ensemble contest. We brought back three perfect scores, including our mixed ensemble contest, we began learning our large group contest music. We sang three songs in front of a group of judges and scored superior ratings from two judges and an excellent rating from one. It was an amazing experience After, we started preparing from our Pops concert. We chose to sing a variety of songs from Grease. In the "Grease Medley", we sang five different songs which included "You're the One that I Want" and "Grease Is the Word." The other songs we sang were "Grease Lightening" and "Born to Hand Jive." For the last time, we sang "Awaken the Music" at graduation. This was the last year that Mrs. Covey got to direct the Winner High School choir and we will miss her dearly!

Senior Prophecy

The year is 2034, the Class of 2014's twenty year reunion, and almost everyone has arrived. Trisha and Emily walk in with casts on opposite arms. It seems that their luck with broken bones has followed them out of high school. The ever organized Natalie is standing by the door checking people off the list as they show up. She is scolding Landon for being late even thought he was chasing a tornado on his way from Oklahoma City. Scott and Sami are making their way over to a seat, and if I've overheard correctly, Scott's trying to convince Sami that the kids will be alright for the night. Dylan and Blenda are standing over by the snack table, discussing the new Call of Duty game that Blenda has helped design. Brennan and Patrick went to get welding equipment out of their pickups to repair the water tank that has just sprung a leak. Trace, Dalton, and Brandyn are getting a card game started over in the corner; they are as competitive as always. Derek is reassuring Jayden that he will have the construction on the club house at the golf course done by the end of the month, even though that's what he said last month. Matt, who is now the State's Attorney, is discussing politics with Evan and Nate; we all know that isn't going to end well. Everyone is surprised to see Forrest walk in, as no one has heard anything from him since he won the lottery six years ago. Ali and Brittney are walking out the door to head to Lil' Feller to get more snacks when Lindsey, Sara, and Jordyn walk in after all getting ready at Sara's house. Chesney and Nick rush over to Kylie, who appears to be choking, but is doing ok, now. Kaitlin, Emilee, and Jasmyn, who haven't all been together since college, are gathered around chatting it up just like old times. Sean, who is Auggie's head wrestling coach, and Kray, who is one of USD's football trainers, are in the process of being convinced by Zach to let him come shape up their players by putting them through some Marine training. Cassidy has finished reliving the glory days of softball with Dazey and is finally getting around saying hello to everyone else. Shayden and Jake are discussing whether SDSM&T's football team is going to be good this year when Ashley interrupts them to ask if they have paid what they owed for the reunion and parade float. Hannah, who helped to patent a new light weight fabric used in prosthetics is over talking to Olivia who works as a nurse at Golden Prairie Manor. Katie and Kennede haven't seen each other since Christmas and are busy catching up about how the little nieces and nephews are doing. Josey, who hasn't been heard from, but has been seen in a few movies, is the last to arrive, late as usual. Jay and Kate are both looking for a mop to clean up the mess as they have collided with each other and have spilled their plates. Even though 20 years has passed since this bunch of misfits last walked through the doors of WHS on graduation day, it seems that they haven't changed much.

Competitive Dance

Our season began with the selection of three Warriorette teams, Hip Hop, Kick and Pom, that showed great potential. Cassidy Hanson, Hannah Covey and I accepted the challenge to be the leaders of these teams and to choreograph routines that would showcase and test the skills of the dancers. In the summer, we attended camp in lowa and put on our own team camp in July. In the fall, we worked endlessly with practices during lunchtime and the early mornings with the motto of "Get better or get beat!" The hard work during practices, determination from the girls, and guidance from Mrs. DeMers helped us achieve 2nd place at the State Cheer & Dance Competition. We placed 1st in the Hip-Hop division-Cassidy Hanson-leader, 1st in the Kick Division-Hannah Covey-leader, and 2nd in the Pom Division-Kennede Mathis-leader. Other competitions the Warriorettes participated in were held in Gregory, Pierre, Platte, and Winner at our first annual competition. The other leaders, Mrs. DeMers and I are proud of the girls for their improvements throughout the year and the goals the team accomplished. This was a memorable year for the Warriorettes and I am glad I was chosen to be a leader of such an outstanding team.

Thank You

On behalf of the Winner High School Yearbook Editors we would like to thank our staff, Shannon Duffy and Alex Meiners, for working with us this year to create this book. We send a major thank you to Dan Bechtold, editor of the Winner Advocate, for providing us with so many pictures throughout the year. We would not have the great coverage of Winner High School students' activities without his help. Thank you to Kara Connot, Sharon Naasz, Dawn Covey, South Dakota Public Broadcasting, and Colleen Farley who provided us with pictures of various events. They are greatly appreciated! An additional sincere thank you is sent to the school board for its generous financial support and to the businesses who bought ads to help defray the production costs of our yearbook. Also thank you to Mrs, Duffy for proofing pages, taking yearbook orders, and for allowing staff members to use her room as a place to work on yearbook. Thank you to Mrs. English, Molly English, Mrs. Hamiel, Allison Duffy, Kiersten Durrin, and Michelle Novak for helping proof pages during the summer. Without them this book would have never been finished. Finally. thank you to our advisor Mrs. Durrin for providing us with snacks and putting up with our crazy personalities and work habits. The vearbook would not be possible without her guidance and support.
