What is a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA)?

A Health Reimbursement Arrangement is an interest-bearing, employer-funded account created in your name to reimburse you tax-free in retirement for eligible medical expenses and premiums.

Do I have to enroll?

You were automatically enrolled by your employer. No action is necessary on your part.

What are the benefits of an HRA?

- Employer deposits are tax-free (not subject to FICA, Federal, or State income taxes), so you receive 100% of the value of each benefit dollar.
- Deposits earn interest tax-free.
- Reimbursements from the plan are tax-free for eligible medical expenses and premiums for you, your spouse, and any qualifying dependents, if applicable.
- Account balance rolls over each year and there is no time frame by when you must submit expenses for reimbursement.
- You have the flexibility to choose which eligible expenses and when to submit for reimbursement.

Who is eligible to receive the benefits of my HRA?

You, your spouse, and any qualifying dependents are able to seek reimbursement for eligible medical expenses and premiums from the HRA. Qualifying dependents include children under the age of 27 at the end of the tax year and any tax dependents.

How often will my employer contribute to my account?

Your employer will contribute to your account on a monthly basis. For detailed information regarding contribution amounts and timing, please contact your employer.

Where are funds invested?

Funds are invested in a fixed annuity with a guaranteed rate of return. Investments are provided by American United Life Insurance Company®, a OneAmerica® Company (AUL). For more information on your investments, please visit www.oneamerica.com.

How often will I receive account statements?

You will receive paper statements on an annual basis. However, you may access your account activity anytime by logging in to your account on our secure website, www.MyMidAmerica.com. Your temporary login is your Social Security number and your temporary password is the last four digits of your Social Security number. You will then be asked to change your user name and password.

Can I make contributions to my HRA?

Only an employer can fund an HRA. You cannot contribute.

Can I move HRA funds to another plan?

The funds deposited in your account must stay within your employer-sponsored HRA plan.

Can I name a beneficiary?

Yes. In the event of your death, a surviving spouse or qualifying dependent will be able to access funds for eligible medical expenses and premiums permitted under the plan. In the event of death without a surviving spouse or qualifying dependent, the beneficiary that you have designated to your plan will be allowed to submit for eligible medical expenses and premiums, subject to any applicable taxes. If you do not have a surviving spouse or qualifying dependent and have not named a beneficiary, the executor of your estate or trustee can use your remaining funds to reimburse eligible medical expenses and premiums not previously submitted on your behalf, including expenses related to your death. If an account balance still remains, the balance will forfeit back to the employer.

What happens if I go back to work part-time for my employer?

Special rules may apply if you return to work for your former employer. Please consult your employer.

Am I still eligible for a Premium Tax Credit (subsidy) if I have an HRA?

Yes. If you qualify for a Premium Tax Credit under the Affordable Care Act (ACA), you must suspend your HRA account balance to receive the credit. You will not be able to submit or incur expenses for reimbursement during the time your HRA is suspended; however, your employer is still able to contribute to your account during the suspension and your account continues to earn interest. The suspension must remain in effect until the end of the year. Please use the Account Restriction/Suspension Form available at www.MyMidAmerica.com.
