Koyo Senior High School – Hiroshima

It was with much sadness that we said goodbye to Koyo Senior High School. Eight students from Koyo were hosted by eight Kalani students last week (August 14-21). International partnerships, like the Sister School Partnership with Koyo, offer wonderful learning opportunities for our families while strengthening bonds of friendship and tolerance between the United States and Japan. Through correspondence and visits, these cultural exchanges help to foster lifelong friendships as we learn and develop a greater understanding of the social customs of Japan and other countries.

Online Dual Credit Informational Meeting:

Kalani’s Dual Credit program offers a unique opportunity for students to earn college credits while still in high school. These college-level courses satisfy both high school and college credit requirements, giving students a head start on their higher education. Please join us for an informational meeting to learn about Kalani’s Dual Credit Program.

If you have any questions, please email Mr. Zane mike.zane@k12.hi.us or see him in the Library.

Chapter 19

In order to keep our schools safe, rules have been established relating to student misconduct; these rules also govern searches of students and seizures of property. Hawaii Administrative Rules, Chapter 19, are derived from state law. It's important that students and parents review this information to be aware of the consequences of a Chapter 19 violation

Campus Safety

The Hawaii Department of Education Safety, Security and Emergency Preparedness Branch is responsible for the security of Department campuses. Our schools and state offices are secured as best as possible to prevent theft, vandalism, trespassing and acts of violence. Annual training is provided for all security personnel with continued research into security best practices and the latest technology. School and student safety is a responsibility for all involved. Safety and security are necessary in order for learning to take place.

Kalani High Surveillance Cameras

Kalani High School installed surveillance cameras on the outside of buildings throughout our campus in 2017. The surveillance cameras are used to provide for the safety of our staff and students and to maintain the security of our buildings and personal property. The intent of the use of the video surveillance cameras is to provide a safe environment for our student by deterring outsiders from entering out campus for inappropriate reasons and to monitor our campus for vandalism and student misconduct. Our cameras are placed in public places, areas where there is no expectation of privacy – school entrances, hallways, exterior of buildings and other open areas on campus. The cameras are NOT placed in areas where students, staff or visitors may have a reasonable expectation of privacy – classrooms, offices, teacher workrooms, restrooms, locker rooms or other designated dressing rooms. The surveillance cameras are just one of the ways that we use to create a safe and secure learning environment at Kalani High School. If you have any questions and/or concerns regarding our surveillance cameras, please call any of the administrative staff at 305-0500.

In Hawai‘i, tens of thousands of high school students dedicate themselves to year-round sports, embracing academic and athletic excellence. A student-athlete can be defined as someone who is enrolled in an education institution while also participating in an organized, competitive sport sponsored by that institution. While this is true, here is my take on what a student-athlete really is... someone who is dedicated, hardworking, and committed to all responsibilities given by school first, then sports. A student-athlete is someone who understands the importance of an education while also being able to maintain the balance of some competitive physical activity.

For me as a soccer player, I have soccer practice three times a week out at the Waipio Soccer Complex. The almost hour drive from Kalani High School to Waipio can be harsh at times. From the time that school is over to the time I get home at night after practice, just about five whole hours have passed me by. I get home at 7 p.m., try to be in bed by 10 p.m. and wake up the next day at 6:30 a.m. and repeat my day again. Sometimes school work can be a bit of a struggle for me, but it is all about priorities. For me, school is a priority. I work extremely hard to earn the best grades I can. So far in my high school career, I have never dropped my grades lower than an A. In my sophomore year, I challenged myself by taking AP U.S. History. Boy, was that a struggle, but the outcome was worth it! Not only did it boost my grade point average, but I came out of my sophomore year with a huge achievement on my back. Before taking this class, I was told that I was going to hate it, that I wouldn’t survive the course by the end of the year. Maybe I did hate it at times, but those times of struggle forced me to stay resilient even when a task feels impossible. Not only did I prove them wrong, but I proved to myself that I am capable of doing anything I put my mind to. This mindset helped me on the field too. Soccer is a year-round sport. When I’m not playing high school soccer, I’m playing club soccer. There are no breaks! Yes, maybe we have a few holidays off or a week off after summer travel, but there is always something to improve; therefore there is always work to be put in. Managing sports around school can be tough. Especially when the school year is coming to the end with finals and projects, it can be hard to excel in both aspects. For those who struggle with this, I’ve come up with a few ways that I personally deal with it and how I am able to keep a healthy balance:

Better time management: Take advantage of the free time that teachers give students in class to get work done. It may seem like more fun to go and talk to your friends or play games on your phone, but getting work done in class is so much better than having to do it at home. Especially on those nights when practice goes long and you get home at a late hour, the last thing you may want to do is homework. This may not mean that you get all of your work done in school, but maybe you’ve gotten started on it and there is less to do later. The benefit of doing work at school is that you have all of your peers and teachers right there to help you if needed! It is important to know that being a student-athlete comes with sacrifice. Sometimes, you’re going to have to stay up late to do work or cut into free time.

Take breaks: Getting good sleep and downtime are just as important as everything else. Without rest, we can’t accomplish our other goals. Taking care of your body and mind is essential to being successful. Stay hydrated: I carry a reusable water bottle with me everywhere I go. I set a daily reminder on my phone at 2 p.m. to remember to drink water, because sometimes in the hustle and bustle of the school day, it can be easy to neglect your biological needs. When I’m hydrated, I can think clearer and focus more.

The most important thing to take away from this is to not give up on school! So many athletes who aspire to play at the collegiate level rely heavily on their athletic abilities to get scholarships. Academics are just as important as athletics. It can offer way more scholarships and opportunities for students who have worked hard on their grades. Just think about how much more support you could get if you had both athletic and academic scholarships!

Being a student-athlete is a privilege. The opportunity to have an education and compete in competitive sports is something that no one should take for granted. Yes, it may come with struggles and adversities, but that’s really what it’s all about. Like Rocky said, “It ain’t about how hard you hit. It’s about how hard you can get hit and keep moving forward!”

Alumni

Alumni Foundation

This year, I want to bring focus to our newly created Alumni Foundation. As principal, I am eager to work with the Foundation to create opportunities to develop and foster a deeper and more engaging relationship between our alumni and Kalani High School. I am committed to helping the Foundation create platforms where alumni can contribute to and benefit from our collective success. In the past 15 years, I have met so many Kalani graduates who share with me that they are who they are because of the education received and the friends that they made at Kalani High School.

As alumni, you are not just former students – you are ambassadors of our shared culture, values and successes. We hope to strengthen the connections between alumni and current students through mentorship opportunities, events and networking initiatives and in doing so, strengthen the bonds between you and the institution that played such an important role in shaping your life. More information forthcoming.

Annual Notice of Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Statement

The Hawaii State Department of Education (Department) does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, and religion. This requirement extends to all of the Department's programs and activities, including employment and admissions as applicable. If you have difficulty understanding English, you have the right to receive language assistance at no cost to you. Please contact your school's principal for more information. For the Department high schools that offer Career and Technical Education (CTE) Programs of Study in arts and communications, business, health services, industrial and engineering technology, natural resources, and public and human services, there are no admission criteria. Department high schools will take steps to assure that the lack of English language skills will not be a barrier to admission and participation in CTE programs and will provide equal access to designated youth groups. The Department does not tolerate acts of harassment on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, and religion. Any student who believes that he or she has been subjected to harassment on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, and religion is encouraged to report such harassment. Students and parents may report allegations of discrimination or harassment to the school's administrator or to the Department's Civil Rights Compliance Branch at the address listed below. The Department is committed to conducting prompt investigations. Support, including counseling and educational resources, will be available to students who are harassed as well as to students found to have engaged in acts of harassment on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, and religion. Students found to have engaged in harassment may be disciplined up to and including suspension if circumstances warrant. Students, parents, and Department staff should work together to prevent harassment on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, and religion. The Department will not tolerate retaliation for reporting discrimination and/or harassment on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, and religion, and will take steps to protect those who wish to report the discrimination or harassment. AHERA

In 1986, Congress passed the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA) which mandated the Asbestos-Containing Materials in Schools Rule, 40 CFR Part 763. It requires all primary and secondary school buildings to be inspected by AHERA accredited inspectors and to identify all asbestos-containing building materials. The rule further requires the development of a management plan by an AHERA accredited management planner that is based on the findings of the inspection. The management plan outlines our intent in controlling the potential for exposure to asbestos fibers in our school. In February 2001, Hawaii Administrative Rules Chapter 11-502 was adopted by the Hawaii State Legislature. These rules essentially mirror the requirements of the AHERA regulations. In both cases, the rule requires our school to notify parents, teachers, and employees of the presence and status of asbestos containing material in our school buildings.

The initial inspection of our school was conducted in 1958 and identifies some asbestos-containing materials. Since that time, we continue to conduct periodic surveillances and triennial re-inspections to ensure that the asbestos-containing materials remain in good condition and do not pose a hazard to our students and staff. An asbestos management plan was drafted based on our initial inspection and submitted to the Hawaii State Department of Health. It outlines in detail the methods we will use to maintain the material in a safe manner. The management plan is updated regularly as asbestos is removed or conditions change. A copy of the management plan is on file in the administrative office and is available for your review during our regular school hours. Should you have any questions, please call the school at 808-305-0500.
